

IAITL Membership

Membership of the International Association of IT Lawyers (IAITL) is open to all connected with the law and the legal professions who have an interest in Information Technology law.

The International Association of IT Lawyers seeks to promote study and research in Computer Law through international conferences, networking, publication of member's research works, job announcements and the provision of internet resources.

As an IAITL member, you get a host of benefits designed to support your desire to increase your knowledge on various events regarding the world of International Law.

IAITL is supported by a dedicated staff whose job is to ensure that their members get the benefits a professional membership body can provide.

The benefits provided by IAITL to their members include:

- Improved career progression opportunities
- Guaranteed access to World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) events
- Guaranteed access to International Telecommunication Union (ITU) Events
- First to know knowledge of Upcoming IAITL Events
